The big factor with most PoE switches is how many PoE devices you have plugged into them and what their power requirements are. With zero devices, the idle consumption also varies greatly with the model and capabilities, number of power supplies (to a lesser extent), and how much load the switch is under. Lots of variables in switch power budgets.

Get the VA to support the power load (watts) and the battery to support the runtime. A 2kVA ups will not run twice as long as a 1kVA UPS will. Many times you will get along cheaper by getting a smaller VA UPS (that fits the requirements) and add a battery pack to get add'l runtime. Not all UPSs support external battery packs.
