What are active work pants made of?

The Active Work pants stand out because they're made from 8.8oz of 100% cotton canvas. This is as light and airy as work pants get. In the grand tradition of 5.11, these pants feature seven pockets including strap-and-slash seat pockets, a hip-mounted D-ring, and secured with YKK zippers, which are known for their dependability.

How do I choose the right work pants for men?

WHETHER YOU ARE a professional tradesman or a project-based weekend warrior, choosing the right work pants for men can make any job safer, easier, and more comfortable. Your everyday pants styles like jeans or chinos can't offer the rugged sartorial protection you need when working with heavy tools in harsh environments.

What are active style work pants?

Active style work pants offer movement and ventilation. They're usually stretchy and made from a soft fabric like cotton, and are often made to deal with sweat and stains. While active pants can be dressed up, they're definitely best suited for casual environments. Wear active style pants on the job if you work at a gym or a casual start-up.

Are professional style work pants right for You?

Similarly, they're also perfect if you work in a suit-and-tie company culture, but in an operational capacity. Professional style work pants are simple and smooth, with much fewer pockets. If you're doing hard labor one moment, but meeting clients face-to-face the next, professional style work pants are for you.

How do work pants fit?

The fit of work pants fully depends on what you intend to do with them. If you need freedom of movement and multiple accessible tools on your person, then they should fit quite loosely. If you're surrounded by machinery that can catch fabric, they should fit closer to the body, and have a stretchy quality.
